THE TIMELESS SPIRIT OF NEPAL

Upon the hills so high and free,
Lies Nepal, a land of history.
Where mountains touch the endless sky,
And rivers sing as they rush by.

A kingdom born in ancient days,
With temples carved in golden rays.
The tales of kings, so wise and bold,
In Kathmandu's streets are still retold.

From Lumbini, so pure and bright,
Came Buddha's peace, his guiding light.
The echoes of his gentle way,
Still bless this land to this day.

Brave Gorkhas stood with swords so strong,
Defending home, where hearts belong.
With courage deep and spirits high,
They fought but never feared to die.

Through storms of time, through joy and pain,
Nepal still stands, proud and plain.
Its culture rich, its soul so deep,
A legacy for all to keep.

The prayer flags dance in mountain air,
Whispers of history everywhere.
Oh, Nepal, so bold, so free,
Your timeless spirit lives in me.

THE HEART OF NATURE

The sun rises with golden grace,
Soft light touching every place.
Birds awaken, sing so free,
A melody in the dancing breeze.

Rivers whisper, smooth and deep,
Carrying dreams where secrets sleep.
Mountains stand so bold and high,
Kissing the endless, open sky.

Flowers bloom in colors bright,
Smiling in the morning light.
Butterflies drift, soft and slow,
As gentle winds begin to blow.

At night, the stars shine clear and true,
The moon glows soft in silver hue.
Nature speaks in love so bright,
A heart that beats in day and night.
